Hi!

My name is (removed for privacy). I would like to volunteer to work on Conservation lands. I am free on weekends, and after 4:00 pm on weekdays.

Thank you!

We can discuss any ideas we might have about (removed for privacy)'s involvement with the conservation lands on Wednesday, and perhaps we should also review our general system for dealing with these sorts of requests.

For now, I will write (removed for privacy) a brief note soliciting any ideas or limits on her activities she might have.

Hi (removed for privacy)

Thanks for your note about volunteering. Here are some questions we like to ask new potential volunteers:

Are there particular types of tasks or particular conservation lands that interest you?

Do you have a drivers license and access to a car? Knowing that will help us think about what tasks might be appropriate.

Are you looking for a single task that can be done in a fixed time, or an ongoing responsibility?

Do you prefer to work alone or with others? And if you prefer to work with others, do you know of people that might want to work with you?

Hi (removed for privacy):

After I wrote this I learned that Linda McElroy had already contacted you about doing some mulching work at Wheeler Lane.

If that turns out to be enough work for you, then all is good. If you decide you want to take on some more work, give me a call, or respond to me by email, and let me know about the answers to the questions below so that we can find you even more work.

-Jim
